What is a brand identity?

A brand identity represents the values, services, ideas and personality of an organisation. It is designed to increase recognition and build perceptions of the organisation in its chosen marketplace.

While the brand identity encompasses many factors – within this guide we talk about three of the key areas which is logo, colours and fonts.

Why use these guidelines?

These guidelines act as a reference for staff, students, consultants and contractors to ensure creation of a cohesive look whenever and wherever information about Westlake Boys High School is visible.

Sign-off & questions

Any use of the Westlake Boys High School logo in non-standard locations or where it is unclear if the application follows these brand guidelines must be approved by the Communications Manager prior to use.

Please allow plenty of time for your design to be considered and reworked if it is not approved.

If you require any further information or clarification about the implementation of the Westlake Boys High School brand, or if you have any questions, please contact the Communications Manager.

Internal vs external audiences

External audience

This is referring to anyone who is unfamiliar with the school brand and likely seeing it for the first time, or hasn't come across it often. They are not regularly part of the school community. People seeing students in public areas are considered an external audience.

It is important for this audience to see consistent branding and the school name with the crest whenever possible to help them form brand recognition.

Internal audience

This is referring to anyone who is very familiar with the school brand and part of the school community. They most likely know the school name and branding well.

It is acceptable for communication and design aimed for this audience to be more relaxed and casual.

Logo overview

The Westlake Boys High School logo has been updated to include the Te Reo translation of our school name. A commitment has been made to use the bilingual logo whenever the school name and crest appear together. The minimum logo sizes in this document must be adhered to ensure legibility of the Te Reo text. It may be necessary for exemptions to be made on clothing – all clothing must be produced in conjunction with the Uniform Shop Manager.

The colours, typefaces and proportions of the logo and crest should never be changed or modified in any way and must always be reproduced from approved electronic files.

Logo files can be obtained by contacting the Communications Manager.

Which logo to use?

External logo choice

It is important that external audiences can see the school name associated with the crest wherever possible.

Preference order:

1. Either the primary vertical or horizontal.
2. The logo variants.
3. If space and/or design does not permit for the logo with the school name – then use the crest.

Internal logo choice

Preference order:

1. In most instances the crest without the school name will be a good and appropriate choice e.g. the school name is written on the yearbook so duplication of the name is not required on the logo. However, any of the logo options can be used.
2. For formal correspondence it is recommended that the primary logo (vertical, horizontal) or a logo variant including the school name is to be used.

Logo colour options

Each logo variant has four colour options to choose from, which allows for clear reproduction in black and white or colour on a light or dark background.

The logo colours must never be changed from the four options shown on this page. Please be aware the crest logo is not shown.

Preference order:

1. The 'Full Colour' option should be used whenever possible.
2. In cases where the keyline or school name is difficult to read, such as on a dark background, the 'Full Colour Reversed' option should be used.
3. The 'Black & White Keyline' and the 'Black & White' option may be used for greyscale applications such as faxing, photocopying and newspaper advertising. 'Black & White Keyline' should be used for light coloured backgrounds and 'Black & White' for dark.

Clear zone

The minimum clear zone requirement ensures that no other competing text or graphic interferes with the logo. It is a proportional measurement based on the measurement labelled ‘X’ so will vary depending on the logo size. The clear zone rule should be applied to all logo variants.

Background design elements may go behind the logo as long as the logo is still clearly legible, but any independent text or image must be placed outside the clear zone.

Calculating the clear zone

To calculate the clear zone:

- Place the desired logo variant in your design at the required size.
- Calculate ‘X’ by taking the vertical measurement between the bottom of the crests banner and the bottom of the banners horizontal line (as illustrated below).
- Apply the measurement ‘X’ horizontally and vertically at each corner of the logo and make sure that any competing design elements are kept at least this distance from the logo.

Incorrect logo use

If there is any doubt over correct logo use please contact the Communications Manager for approval with plenty of time for the design to be considered and altered if it is not approved.

The logo must always be reproduced from approved electronic files, which can be obtained by contacting the Communications Manager.

The following rules apply to all Westlake Boys branded material created for any audience.

You may never:

- Change the logo colours.
- Distort the logo in any way.
- Crop or partially cover the logo.
- Place the logo over a background that makes it difficult to read.
- Reflect the logo or crest.
- Adjust the position or relative scale of any logo elements.
- Use the crest without the banner.
- Place the logo on a red background (unless it is the reversed black and white variant).
- Rotate the logo.
- Apply a transparency to the logo.

Exemptions for internal use

There may be some situations where it is permissible for these rules to be broken as long as the application is only intended for internal use. For example in student art.

Please contact the Communications Manager for approval with plenty of time for the design to be considered and altered if it is not approved.

Correct logo use

All situations

If there is any doubt over correct logo use please contact the Communications Manager for approval with plenty of time for the design to be considered and altered if it is not approved.

The logo must always be reproduced from approved electronic files, which can be obtained by contacting the Communications Manager.

You can:

- Use any logo variant that fits your design in an approved colour.
- Place the logo over design elements as long as they are not overly distracting and the text is still clearly legible.
- Place the logo over an image as long as the text is still clearly legible.
- Place the reversed black and white logo on a red background.

Primary brand colours

There are two main colours that define the Westlake Boys High School identity; red and green. They should be used sparingly together, but be the prominent colour choice for all external facing design. A third neutral colour, Tan, provides balance to the strong brand colours.

Any tint of green or tan may be used, however red should only be used at 100% saturation.

Designs intended for an internal audience may use any colours. However when red, green or tan are used, the colour breakdowns specified on this page must be used.

Choosing a colour system

For accurate colour output, please ensure you choose the correct colour system for each application.

Please note: There are many versions of Garamond typefaces, all with slight variations. Adobe Garamond Pro has been chosen, in part for its inclusion of macrons.

The schools brand font has been changed to Helvetica which includes macrons for Te Reo text. Previously, the font was Swis 721BT.

Font choice

External use

1. Adobe Garamond Pro is the strongly suggested font for titles, headings and sub headings for formal documentation e.g. the annual report, a letterhead, an external presentation.
2. Helvetica can be used for titles, headings and sub headings for other documentation / Collateral such as advertising material.
3. Helvetica must be used for body copy.

Internal use

Any collateral intended for internal use should follow the same rules as above. However, different fonts can be selected to allow for creativity.

In general, there will be more leniency granted for collateral that is being seen by a smaller audience who are very familiar with the Westlake High School brand, such as text on a poster advertising a new school club made by a student.

This will be at the discretion of the Communications Manager/Development Team. Please contact the Communications Manager for approval with plenty of time for the design to be considered and altered if it is not approved.
